FOR THE YEAR 1858-9.

ROCHESTER, N. H.

1859.

REPORT.

THE Superintending School Committee, in compliance with the law, respectfully submit the following.

DISTRICT NO. 1.

The Summer Term of this School was taught by Miss Sarah J. Tebbets. The School appeared, when visited by the Committee, to have made a good beginning, but it closed sooner than was expected; and the Committee, not being present, can make no report of its progress.

The Winter Term of eleven weeks was taught by William H. Bragdon, it being the second term in this district. Mr. Bragdon is well qualified, and maintained his former reputation as a teacher.

DISTRICT NO. 2.

The Summer School was kept by Miss Lucy H. Roberts. The order in this school was pretty good, and the scholars appeared very well.

The Winter School was kept by Miss Mary E. Horn, of Somersworth, a young, inexperienced teacher. The instruction in this school was not so thorough and critical as is desirable.

DISTRICT NO 8.

The Summer School was under the charge of Miss Hannah M. Webster, of Dover. Miss Webster succeeded very much to the satisfaction of her employers. The recitations of the several classes bore strong marks of the ability of the teacher, and of diligence and study on the part of the scholars. It appeared that the teacher had urged upon her scholars the importance of attending well to the elementary principles of Orthography—a branch of study which deserves more attention than it has hitherto received to the scholar and the scholar strong than it has hitherto received to the scholar strong than it has hitherto received to the scholar strong than it has hitherto received to the scholar strong than it has hitherto received to the scholar strong than it has hitherto received to the scholar strong than it has hitherto received to the scholar strong than the scholar

The winter school was kept by Mr. William B Wiggin, of Sandwich. This school has suffered much from prevalent epidemics, which rendered the attendance somewhat irregular. Mr. Wiggin was very much interested in the wellfare of his school, and accomplished, perhaps, all that could have been expected under the circumstances.

The summer term of this school was taught by Miss Martha T. Jenness. Here we found one of the pleasantest schools we ever witnessed; The carnest efforts of the teacher to benefit the scholars, and their affectionate response rendered this school both pleasant and profitable.

The winter term was taught by Mr. Buzzell, a good teacher. The school has made quite an improvement under his instruction, he has endeavored to do his duty faithfully,

The winter term was taught by Miss Caverno, of Barrington, who has discharged her duties faithfully. The attendance has been quite regular. At the visits of the committee, it was evident that the teacher knew how to do her duty, and was willing and able to do it.

The summer term of this school was taught by Miss' Amanda S. Ham, a very good teacher. There was quite an improvement made in this school, the scholars seemed well disposed and inclined to be studious.

The winter term was taught by Mr. Henry R. Abbott.—
The school this term has made a decided improvement.

on the borner district no. 7. The second div med

The summer term of this school was taught by Miss Lucy A, McDuffee, an excellent teacher, although she labored under the disadvantage of an inconvenient room, together with a large number of scholars, which made her task very hard, yet the school made fine progress.

The winter term was taught by Mr. G. F. Hobbs, a superior teacher for a young man, there was good order main tained in this school, and a very decided improvement in the studies pursued.

This district during the past summer has built a splendid School House at the cost of about $1800, which reflects much credit upon the enterprise of its inhabitants.

DISTRICT NO. 8,

The number of schools in this district are five; one Grammar school, three Intermediate, and one Primary.

The Grammar school was taught the past year by Mr. Wm. A. Kimball. This school has been under Mr. Kimball's instruction for some years previous to this, and we think from the appearance of the school, that Mr. Kimball is worthy of the reputation of an able and efficient teacher. At the visits of the committee, the school gave good evidence of diligent attention of the scholars to the various branches of study pursued, and also of thorough instruction on the part of the teacher.

The teacher in the Intermediate schools, the past year have been Miss Nancy L. Richardson, Miss Eliza J. Day, and Miss Sarah W. Pray, excellent and successful teachers; under whose instruction the schools have made good improvement. We think they have performed the duties devolving upon them with a conscious fidelity, and with feelings of that responsibility which should rest upon teachers. These schools, as well as the others, notwithstanding have been subjected to a hindrance, which will always retard the general progress, wherever it is suffered to exist by parents and guardians of scholars, namely, that of some of the scholars, either from some fancy of their own, or some trifling offence, to leave and go to some other school; no teacher should admit any scholar after their homes in school have been assigned them by the Committee, without direct authority from the same.

The Primary School was taught by Miss Anna S. Chapman who acquitted herself in an acceptable manner.

Short and District No. 9.

The summer term of this school was taught by Miss Lydia Pray. This school has made quite a perceptible progress, so far as we can judge Miss Pray has labored fathfully to do her duty.

The winter term of this school was taught by Mr. Wilson K. Lindsay, a young man well adapted to the school, as he won the esteem of the scholars at the commencement which is a very necessary requisite in this school, the attendance was regular and quite an improvement made.

DISTRICT NO. 10.

Miss Hattie E. Dame taught the school in this district during the summer, who manifested good judgment in the management and discipline of her school, but before this school can be what it should be, the district must be more united than it has been for the past few years. This was Miss Dame's first appearance in the character of a teacher, and doubtless with age and experience, she will become one of our best teachers. The winter term was taught by David Hayes of Rochester. The school house, or rather the shanty which is used for a school house in this district, is wholly unfit for the purpose for which it was designed. It would require the expenditure of more than fifty dollars, to render this school house a respectable abode for hogs, cattle or hens, and its only claim to respect from scholars or parents, is its advanced age, and the legends told by their grand-parents connected with its early history.

DISTRICT NO. 11.

The summer term of this school was taught by Miss Abbie M. Swain, of Strafford. This school at the commencement appeared rather restless, owing to former discipline, at the close quite an improvement was found.

The winter term was taught by Mr. Olney T. Meader, a very good teacher for a young man, he appeared to maintain good order the school made good improvement,

DISTRICT NO. 12.

The summer school was taught by Miss Caroline M. Barker under whose discipline the school appeared well, good order was observed and considerable interest manifested.

The winter school was kept by Mr. Charles C. Hayes, of Farmington, who as a teacher deservedly ranks high. This teacher is perfectly at home in the school room, well knows his duty and is willing and amply able to do it. His aim appeared to be a thoroughness in all the recitations rather than to glide superficially over much space. We consider Mr. Hayes one of our best teachers, well and all used and

The school house in this district is badly constructed and much out of repair, nothing can be said in its favor, except the ravages of time have rendered it very well ventilated. Considering the wealth of the district, this school house is not what it should be, and we hope before they have another school to see one erected there that shall be a credit to the district parse fooder with religion of facility which is become to a odela glag at la a pinkla nolita nolita adam dikstart DISTRICT NO. 13:

Summer School taught by Miss Hattie Hobbs, of Wakefield, who is a diligent, faithful and successful teacher. The order, progress and deportment of the scholars was very good.

The Winter School was taught by Mr. Benj. The school was rather backward, but a good degree of advancement was manifested at its close. The second seco

DISTRICT NO. 14

The Summer School was taught by Mrs. Delia Nute, of Farmington. The number of scholars in this school is too small to excite that spirit of emulation and afford that variety in the exercises, which are indispensable to a good school. It was clear, however, that the teacher has endeavored to discharge her duty—to make them read carefully and not fast, and to impress them with the advantage of reading a few pages well, over reading many pages carelessly. Classes in grammar, arithmetic and geography were taught on the same principles, and were well drilled with elements.

The Winter Term was taught by Miss Augusta Dame, of Rochester, with commendable success. The progress and advancement in the several branches taught was fair.

DISTRICT NO. 15.

The Summer and Winter Terms of this School were kept by Miss Eliza J. Downs of Rochester. The Summer Term gave general satisfaction. Weathink Miss Downs labored hard for the good of her pupils, and they were profited by her instructions.

During the Winter Term the scholars were large boys, many of them. We have no doubt the school was conducted as well as could be expected of a young lady of her experience and age. We would recommend to Prudential Committees to hire male teachers instead of females for winter schools, especially where there are many large boys and girls.

United with Milton.

DISTRICT NO. 17.

The Summer Yerm of this school was taught by Susan R.

Canney, who made a perfect failure in her efforts to keep order. A portion of the scholars seemed to understand for what purpose schools were instituted, and to attach a value to the privilege they enjoyed. But some of the larger ones were perfectly devoid of any sense of property, and seemed to have suffered much from the want of good training. This portion of the school was very backward and made but little progoess.

The Winter Term was taught by David Hayes of Rochester. This school was easily governed and good order was maintained throughout, without resorting to corporeal punishment in a single instance. The most of the scholars were very much interested, and very punctual in their attendance, and the result was a degree of improvement highly commendable on their part.

DISTRICT NO. 18.

Both terms of this school were taught by Miss Laura S. Horn, of Somersworth. The Committee were highly pleased with the recitations and order of this school, and the faithful manner of imparting instruction and securing the good will of the scholars. All the classes appeared well, and it would be difficult to select the class that had made the greatest improvement. On the whole, we think this school was exceeded by none and equalled by few.

DISTRICT NO. 19.

The Summer and Winter Terms of this school were taught by Miss Harriet N. Corson, a superior teacher. There was good order, and everything about this school that constitutes a good school.

DISTRICT NO. 20.

Both terms of this school were taught by Miss Angeline

Hayes, an admirable teacher. Although this school is quite small in regard to numbers, yet it is very interesting on account of the modest appearance and good discipline of the pupils. There has been a marked improvement in this school.

To this specific Report of the Schools in the several districts, we will add a few suggestions, which are of a general nature, and equally applicable to all the schools.

In the first place, to parents we would say, teachers are in great need of your hearty co-operation and sympathy. Your verbal assurance that you sympathize with them, is not sufficient. You should make it practically evident that you are interested in the work of the teacher, and anxious for his suc-Trust not implicitly in the fidelity of his efforts, until you have seen him with your own eyes in the exercise of the functions of his office. You should visit the school frequently. Nothing short of your personal presence in the school room, will indicate satisfactorily to your children the sincerity of your pretensions. Parents may aid and sustain the teacher by their co-operation and influence, or they may frustrate his best directed efforts by their ill-timed remarks and opposition, and render the school an unpleasant one for him, and an unprofitable one for their children. The influence of the parents should always be thrown on the side of the teacher, and no word of disapproval should ever be dropped in the presence of the child.

The pupil should always be given to understand, that he has nothing to do in the government of the school. If the teacher has, in your opinion, been unnecessarily severe, a private, friendly interview with him, would in most cases, result in a perfect understanding of circumstances and mutual good will. There are influences stronger than those of the teacher. They parent is doomed to disappointment who expects the teacher, in a few short weeks, to correct those habits which have been suffered to pass unrebuked at home, and to neutralize those influences which the parent is continually exerting by precept and example—in short, to accomplish in a few days what he himself has in vain labored to effect in many years. Therefore let parents first make a wise and judicious selection of a teacher, and then give him their entire confidence and support. And when you have secured a good teacher, keep him. A survey of those schools that have been taught for several successive ferms by the same teacher, will furnish ample proof of the importance of this suggestion.
